

FRIDAY 1/20/17 WEATHER UPDATE

Posted on January 20, 2017 by Tyler Barker

Good Friday evening, temperatures are mild near 60 degrees with partly cloudy skies. Overnight, expect mostly cloudy skies and mild temperatures, with lows in the upper 40's. For Saturday, we could start as some morning fog in spots, but temperatures will soar into the low and mid 60's, possibly upper 60's for our southern counties. It will be a mostly cloudy day, rain showers will move in during the late evening hours. Rain will be in the forecast for Sunday and going into Monday, some of that rain could be heavy.
