

UPDATE: PAGE-KINCAID WATER PROBLEMS

FAYETTE COUNTY, W.Va. (WOAY) - Despite a petition with over 200 signatures, the Page-Kincaid PSD says they will not turn service over to American Water.

"If a private firm comes in, the question is 'who will pay for the expense of that to happen?'" said PSD commissioner John David. " We can either try to fix it and get grants to do that, they're going to want to have rate increases to justify their considerable, extensive expense."

Last week, customers asked the Fayette County Commission to force the PSD to declare their system a failure. Doing so would allow American Water to take over.
