

UPDATE: AN ESCAPEE FROM RALEIGH COUNTY HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Posted on August 7, 2018 by Tyler Barker

UPDATE: CRAB ORCHARD, WV (WOAY) - An escapee from Raleigh County has been captured. West Virginia State Police tell WOAY that Larry Good was arrested early Wednesday morning.

WOAY is trying to get information on where he was captured and will update the story when more information is available.

-----

ORIGINAL STORY (8/7/18 at 1:30pm)

CRAB ORCHARD, WV (WOAY) - West Virginia State Police is looking for an escapee last seen in Raleigh County.

State Police tells WOAY that Larry Good was last seen on Interstate 77 near the intersection of Interstate 64 (Crab Orchard area) at 12:20 pm Tuesday, August 7, 2018. The subject fled from troopers on foot at the aforementioned location after he was stopped for a stolen license plate. During the foot pursuit, Mr. Good cut his home confinement ankle bracelet off.

Larry Good 5'10", 170 white male brown hair and green eyes, multiple tattoos to include the following: momma on right hand, the word "tried with bars" on the left-hand wizard that both forearms.

Mr. Good was wearing a black shirt when last seen and should have scratches from running through a wooded area while fleeing from officers.

If you know where Good may be or see him, you are asked to call 911.